LAND MANAGEMENT TEAM

In an effort to expand our formal offerings to our clientele, Lashley Land and Recreational Brokers has brought under our umbrella Circle G Ag Real Estate a firm owned and operated by Grandfather/Grandson team Gary Greder and Jordan Maassen. Gary had long provided the most professional, informative, loyal and dedicated farm and ranch management services in the State of Nebraska. Jordan Maassen is carrying on that tradition, having taken over the operation at Circle G for several years under the expert tutelage of his grandfather. Jordan continues this tradition under the Lashley Land roof and has available to him all the knowledge and expertise of over 100 years experience of the other agents within the company in a consultative role.

JORDAN MAASSEN

ANGIE BLAGDON

Jordan is a licensed Real Estate Associate and associate member of the American Society of Farm Managers and Rural Appraisers. (ASFMRA) Jordan grew up in Lincoln County on the family farm and ranch near Hershey. He attended the University of Nebraska-Lincoln and majored in Agronomy/Crop Production and Ag Business. Jordan brings not only his education and experience in agronomy and land management to Lashley Land, but is a valuable member of the Lashley Land sales brokerage team.

Grandpa Gary Greder giving some On-The-Job Training to Grandson Jordan Maassen.

Also coming to us from Circle G is Angie Blagdon, who specializes in bookkeeping, reporting, and is integral in nearly every aspect in our Farm and Ranch Management Operations. Angie is fantastic with clients, and is beloved by them for her personal care and attention to each account. Jordan and Angie work closely with local and absentee landowners to improve their income and profitability, while providing peace of mind regarding their property ownership.

LAND MANAGEMENT TEAM

Farming today requires more than just planting, harvesting, and selling a crop to make a profit. It's a complicated business with overwhelming responsibilities and requires ever changing knowledge in agronomy, commodity markets and technology.

Ranching is demanding, labor-intensive, and requires a high degree of knowledge in animal husbandry, nutrition, grazing rotations, property improvements and veterinarian care.

Here at Lashley Land we will sit down with each individual client and discuss any short and long term goals that the client has with their land ownership. We will then conduct an onsite farm or ranch analysis and review. Upon completion of the review we will tailor a management contract to your individual wants and needs. We will then begin develop and customized management plan for your unique operation. We will work closely with the landowner to ensure a successful farm or ranch operation. Following each farm or ranch inspection a written report will be given in order to keep the client informed of the progress of each property they own. Upon conclusion of the growing season each client will receive a year-end report that highlights how the farm or ranch progressed throughout the season.

Every member of the Lashley Land team has had direct involvement in agriculture, and the combined experience, knowledge, and contacts available to landowners at Lashley Land is second to none. These resources only enhance what our farm and ranch management department can deliver to you, the landowner.

"The distinguishing difference to our family is Jordan and Angie's approach to hands on management and building a long term relationship with the landowner. It's not just a business. It is a passion and a legacy.

RECREATIONAL LAND MANAGEMENT

Properties with excellent wildlife habitat are highly desirable by hunters. Good recreational properties, particularly river bottom ground, can be very valuable, and made more so by proper development and maintenance to improve its value as a hunting destination.

Lashley Land personnel are very knowledgeable about the different types of wildlife and their preferred habitat in Nebraska. We can provide basic consultation in improving a given property, or take over complete management duties to meet a property's individual needs and the property Owner's goals.

SERVICES PROVIDED

- Mapping and planning of property by vegetation, water, and hunting potential
- Planning and development of sloughs and wetlands for waterfowl
- Development of roads and trails through thick brush to provide access to game trails and blind sites
- Recommendation on placement of blinds and feeders, and installation/construction of below ground and elevated blinds
- Planning and planting of food plots
- Selective cedar removal and brush clearing to improve grazing while maintaining good cover
- Surrogate quail or pheasant chicks on property, which can exponentially increase the bird population in the immediate area in just a few seasons
- Manage leased hunting, providing liability insurance for landowner
- Advertise available leases on behalf of landowner
- Management of income and expenses, with yearly "tax-ready" financial reports

"Lashley Land's input and instruction for installing culverts, creating trails and good places for deer blinds greatly increased the wildlife population, as well as the marketability and value of my property."

"We have worked with Gary Greder since 1977, and in recent years, Jordan Maassen, Gary's grandson, as our farm and ranch management team. This team took our 640 acres, which was barely profitable, and guided its development into a successful enterprise of four center-pivots. We immediately saw a substantial profit after development, and Jordan's continual input has ensured our annual profitability."
